Milton Public Library Expands Hours on Sundays

In response to increased patron demand, MPL is delighted to announce that for the first time ever, hours will be extended at both Main library and Sherwood branch to include full days on Sundays. Milton Public Library is always keen to offer MORE for our patrons including more services, more programming and more open hours.

The change will take effect on Sunday, 9th May, just in time for the anticipated end of the provincial lockdown and as MPL transitions back to in-person services.

The new Sunday hours will be as follows:

Main:

9:30am – 5pm

Sherwood:

9:30am – 4:30pm

“I am overjoyed that for the first time ever, we are able to open for full day Sundays, at Milton Public Library at both the Main & Sherwood branches. Doing so is in response to increasing demand, for our services, from our patrons. Being able to open full day on Sundays, within our existing operating budget is an even bigger win, and speaks to the ongoing efficiencies that continue to be realised in our service delivery model, without any negative impact on the customer service excellence provided by MPL’s staff.” Mark Williams, Chief Librarian.
